Disgraceful Business.

There has been secretly circulated through the mails without even postmarks an anonymous circular, libelous in its character, against Daniel F. Beatty of Washington, N. J., proprietor of the Beatty Piano and Beatty's celebrated Golden Tongue Parlor Organs.

It is supposed to have been done by competitors in the business, as none others would be to the trouble and expense, even if they had no fear of the punishment if detected, and the cause is attributed to the fact that Mr. Beatty has been making a very successful war upon high prices in those instruments.

We have received from Mr. Beatty the following open letter addressed to him by the officials and prominent men of his own town.

WASHINGTON, N. J., July 5, 1877.
To Daniel F. Beatty, Esq.:

It having come to our knowledge that communications written with an intent to falsify you and injure your business, have appeared in a certain periodical, we therefore, as citizens of this place—having known you for years—consider it an act of justice to you to pronounce all such communications to be entirely uncalled for and slanderous, and endorse you as being, so far as we have ever been able to judge, a man of sterling integrity and prompt in all your business transactions. Signed, Nathan Lilts, Mayor; Alpheus Babcock, G. A. Thatcher, Henry Winter, and Wm. E. Cummins, Councils; Joseph Vleit, Judge of the Court; James H. Groff, Vice President, and P. H. Hann, Cashier First National Bank; Rev. J. J. Reed, Pastor M. E. Church (acquainted but few months); J. V. Creveling, Jos. A. Shrope and John C. Winter, Justices of the Peace; John Gardner, Sheriff, and Richard B. Shaffer, Deputy Sheriff of Warren county; A. W. Creveling, General Merchant; Philip Johnston, late Assessor, and others.

I certify that I am acquainted with the hand writing of the above, and recognize all of them as genuine. The gentlemen are of our best citizens, and I fully concur in the letter.

OSCAR JEFFERY,
Counselor-at-Law and Notary Public.

We can hardly conceive of a more complete answer to such a libel than the above letter, but Mr. Beatty requests all interested to address him for full reply, and asks for information touching the parties circulating the libel if any can be obtained, with a view to their prosecution and punishment.

BEATTY'S ORGANS.—Having furnished one of Beatty's fine Parlor organs for the Heath House, Schooley Mountain, N. J., we are in receipt of an acknowledgement, under date of Thanksgiving day, in which Mrs. J. W. Coleman, wife of the host, says: "We are also thankful for the additional pleasure of all, in listening to the delightful tones of the beautiful organ that now ornaments our parlor, it having arrived just in time for the day. Our daughter is perfectly infatuated with it, and handles it very nicely. We were handsomely received by Mr. Beatty at his warerooms."—ALPINE CHRONICLE.

A Lesson in Business.

Merchants sometimes pay a high rate of interest, three per cent. a month, even, in order to get out of a "tight place." A young merchant of New York, who found himself in need of $100,000, for which he was willing to pay a high rate of interest, called on Mr. James G. King, a banker, for the loan. He received aid, but he was also taught a lesson. Said Mr. King:

"Look ye, L., you have paid as high as three per cent. a month for the use of money!"

"Yes," replied the applicant, a little warmly, "and I am ready to do it again. My business will warrant it."

Mr. King shook his head. No business in the world, he declared, could warrant such a thing. But the younger man was headstrong and positive. He knew that his business would warrant the interest mentioned for the accommodation required.

"Well, now look here, L., I happen to have a hundred thousand in the bank which I can spare; but I don't want to take it out for a short time. If you will take three years at three per cent. a month, it is yours. Make your note for the hundred thousand, payable in three years after date, at that rate of interest, and I will discount for you at once, saying nothing about security."

The young merchant was delighted. As soon as he could believe that King was in earnest, he took a blank form and made the note.

"Now let us reckon the discount," said the older merchant.

He figured a few moments, and then looking up with a smile, he said:

"L., you owe me $8,000!"

The young man thought at first his friend was joking; but when he came to look at the figures, he found it too true.

$100,000, at 3 per cent. a month, would be 36 per cent. a year (36,000), and for the three years $108,000!

"Well, L., what do you think of a business conducted upon such a basis? Now look ye—"

Mr. King then told the young man just what he would do, on the condition, however, that he would turn over a new leaf in his business. L. saw the brink upon which he had stood, and, with his friend's generous assistance, he backed away from it.

A RUSSIAN MIRACLE.—Russian newspapers affirm a miracle to have occurred at Moscow, which is supposed to have some connection with the "Holy War," and which is compared to the appearance of Saint Sergius in the study of the late Czar Nicholas at the time of the Crimean war.

Saint Sergius was then reported to have presented a small wooden cross to the Imperial crusader. There is a pond just outside of Moscow which is at this season frozen over. About a week ago, or a little longer, one morning, the ice was found cracked and broken in a particular place, leaving a gap in the shape of a Saint Andrew's Cross. The orthodox Muscovites have proclaimed this a sign from Heaven, and hundreds and thousands crowd to see it daily—rich people in private carriages, as well as poor and simple folk.

Just what a graveyard New York city is for papers or individuals is shown by the fact that while the New York News has a circulation of over 130,000, the name of the sheet is hardly known in Boston, Hartford or Philadelphia, and is never seen in other journals.

Some of the English newspapers have a special department headed "Assaults on Woman," comprehending, principally, cases of wife beating, which is shockingly prevalent among the lower classes. In this fact has originated the saying, current in England, "Before marriage the man is very much struck by the woman; after marriage the woman is still more struck by the man."

As a colored resident of Detroit was breasting the storm, he was halted by a friend and brother and asked, "is dat your umbrell?" "Yes, sah—cost me two dollars," was the prompt reply. "Mr. Savage," said the other, very solemnly, "when a man will buy a two dollar umbrell to keep the wet off'n a fifty cent suit of close, what's de use to talk about 'conomy?"

A tramp was arrested, taken before a magistrate, and sentenced for three months. The justice, in explaining the sentence, remarked, that while there was no evidence that the prisoner had been guilty of any crime, he thought it prudent to commit him, as he had the wild haggard look of a man about to start a newspaper.

It is after all, at the table, as everywhere else, says a writer on etiquette at the table, that the golden rule obeyed to the letter is the only safe standard of behavior; for there neither servant nor host wants any of your interference in his duties, and the rest remains with yourself.

A devoted wife will always speak plainly, kindly, to her husband. Here is a case in point: "When I die," said a married man, "I want to go where there is no snow to shovel." His wife said that she presumed that he would.

The French Dr. Tachamer says that the little black specks on apples and oranges are clusters of fungi, and that they produce whooping cough.

Children are quick to perceive the standard of integrity held by those around them, and catch the prevailing tone of moral feeling.

Keeping half a dozen dogs doesn't help at all toward driving the wolf from a poor man's door.

Maine and Massachusetts.

The Boston Herald wants to know the causes of the alienation between Maine and Massachusetts. A long summer's day would not suffice to tell them all. But here is one: The treatment of Maine men and Maine troops by Massachusetts in the war of 1812. Two instances we will mention. William Widgery, the Maine representative who sustained the declaration of war, barely escaped with his life from a Newburyport mob on his way home from the capital. Maine soldiers fared scarcely better. The company recruited in York County for the Third United States Artillery was hooted in every town in Massachusetts through which it passed on its way to the Lakes, and on the shop doors of the villages was scrawled this legend in chalk: "Down with the war-hawks." On their return home our soldiers received quite a shabby treatment. With true Yankee the men of Massachusetts charged them exorbitant prices for so slight things as a glass of milk or a morsel of bread. Their homeward-march through Massachusetts might be depicted in Paulding's lines:

"Saved this good land and when the tug was o'er Begged their way home at every scoundrel's door."

The truth is Massachusetts was disloyal to the very heart in that war. She meditated treason but wanted the courage to achieve it. Naturally she desires that this shameful part of her history shall be forgotten. Apparently the Herald never learned it. But the memory of insult and abuse has not yet died out of the minds of Maine people.—Portland Press.

TEACH YOUR BOYS.—Teach them that a lady may be found in calico quite as frequently as in velvet.

Teach them that a common school education, with common sense, is better than a college education without it.

Teach them that a good honest trade well mastered is worth a dozen beggarly "professions."

Teach them that "honesty is the best policy" that it's better to be poor, than rich on the profits of ill gotten gain.

Teach them to respect their elders and themselves.

Teach them that they cannot too soon learn to protect the weak and helpless.

Teach them that to wear patched clothes is no disgrace, but to wear a "black eye" is.

Teach them that God is no respecter of sex, and that when he gave the seventh commandment he meant it for them as for their sisters.

Teach them that by indulging their depraved appetites in the worst forms of dissipation they are not fitting themselves to become the husbands of pure girls.

Teach them that "God helps those who help themselves."

Teach them that it is better to be an honest man seven days than to be a Christian (?) one day and a villain six days.

A Philadelphia newspaper man, who saved a little money during the flush times, recently did his first traveling. On his return home the first thing he wrote was some "advice to travelers." His advice was as follows: "For travelling, carry a crow-bar to open car windows; a Spencer or Henry-Martin rifle for protection against hackmen and hotel clerks; a good supply of equable temper, and a large valise to contain greenbacks."

The sweet singer of Michigan was smart enough for the Chicago interviewer. "You were the oldest of the family, were you not?" he said. "No, of course not," replied the poetess; "my father and mother were older than me."

In China agriculture is considered the noblest of arts to which man can attain. To such a degree is the worship of this art carried that the annual fete day of agriculture is attended by the Emperor in person who on this day welds the plough.

Bald-headed men who go courting should not put the candle on the mantel. The reflection on their heads might dazzle the eyes of the ladies on the other side of the street.

There is no place where the people are more go-ahead and business like than in New York. There it is about as follows: "What, dead?—where's his will?"

A school-house lot in a New Hampshire district stands in three towns so that the pupils sit in Rindge, the teacher in New Ipswich, and the recess is taken in Ashburnham, Mass.

If some men were measured by the size of their hearts and souls, a gun-patch would make them a suit of clothes, including an Ulster overcoat.

The Worcester Press says there is some sort of reason in Rhode Island's opposition to the big silver dollar of the daddies. The coin takes up room.

The essence of nobility is neglect of self. Let thought of self pass in, and the bounty of a great action is gone, like the bloom from a soiled flower.

Don't despise poor relations. They might get rich some time, and then it would be so hard to explain things.

The sympathy of one weaker than ourselves, the sympathy even of a little child, will aid the most resolute.

The Welsh word for milk is "ewrw." Let's hear you ask for some.

The Star and Herald, of Panama, announces the death there, January 26th, of W. F. Watkins, of Covington, Kentucky. The interment took place in the foreign cemetery, and the remains were followed to the grave by sympathizing countrymen. Mr. Watkins was a member of the California Legislature in 1859.

It is thought by the French Minister at Washington that the Paris Exposition will be postponed.

It is reported that the President will veto the Silver bill.

The Workingmen have elected an Assemblyman in Santa Clara county.

DIPHTHERIA.

As the diphtheria is very prevalent in the northern portion of our county we cannot too strongly urge upon our people the necessity of heeding the instructions of the State Board of Health. On the appearance of the disease in a family the precautions commonly taken to prevent the communication of the sick with the well should be adopted. No one but the doctor and nurses should be allowed to enter the sick room, and no children should be allowed to visit the house—and the same rule might be applied to adults. The room of the patient should be well ventilated, and all woolen clothes, curtains, and even carpets, should be removed. The clothing and bed linen, when changed, should be immediately dipped into boiling water, to which should be added to every gallon one ounce of sulphate of zinc, or half an ounce of the chloride of zinc or condis fluid. The funerals of those dying of this disease should not be attended by children. Cleanliness in about dwellings is very necessary. When the disease is suspected in a member of the family send for a physician at once; it will not do to delay a moment. It is to be hoped that these suggestions will be heeded by our people, and the disease checked and stamped out of the county.

On Wednesday afternoon the levee on the Yolo side of the Sacramento gave way opposite Sacramento and at Mike Bryte's ranch, four miles above Washington, flooding the town of Washington and surrounding country. The citizens of Washington were compelled to flee to the upper stories of their dwellings and to Sacramento for safety.

FIRE AT BODIE.—A fire occurred at Bodie on the night of the 12th, by which one of the restaurants of that thriving town was destroyed. The next morning the remaining "hash houses" put up the price of board to $10 a week.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

"No Fence" Law.—The farmers of Alpine county are anxious to have a "No Fence" law enacted at the present session of the Legislature. It is considered a great hardship for our farmers to be obliged to build fences to keep out the cattle and horses of Carson valley, in Nevada, which are turned loose every Spring and driven into our county to the detriment of our farmers and stock raisers. In view of the scarcity of fencing material the farmers of Alpine are in a measure kept poor by being compelled to keep up their fences to protect their crops from spoliation by stock from our neighboring State. We hope our representatives in the Senate and Assembly will take this matter in hand and give Alpine a "No Fence" law.

Diphtheria.—This terrible malady is very prevalent in the vicinity of Woodfords and Diamond Valley, nearly every family having a visitation. John E. Johns, of Diamond Valley, has lost both his children by it. Peter Vollum has lost his youngest daughter, and Mr. Vollum is just recovering from an attack of the disease. Nearly all of O. C. Wade's family, at Woodfords, are down with it. Miss Ida Wade, who was the first one attacked, is slowly recovering. Only one family in Diamond Valley—Clogston's—were able to attend the funeral of Mr. Johns' children who were buried at Genoa.

Thanks.—To Prof. L. L. Hawkins of the University of California, for a Register of that institution for 1877–78 also, for a copy of lectures by Prof. G. F. Becker.

To Assemblyman Nott for a copy of Assembly Bill No 436—To provide for a Constitutional Convention.

The Advance.—We hear good accounts from this mine through disinterested parties. Very rich ore has been and is being taken out, and this week a large quantity has been shipped to the office at San Francisco. Assays made by B. E. Hunter, of Monitor went over $400 to the ton.

A Failure.—The ball announced to come off here last evening in honor of Washington's Birthday, did not, the late continuous storm, and other things having demoralized the dancing fraternity.

Pleasant.—After a month of storms we have at last drifted into pleasant weather, and the warm rays of the sun is fast settling the snow, which is about four feet deep on our streets.

Probate.—A. D. L. Payne, of Silver Mountain, has been appointed Administrator of the Estate of Peter Peterson, deceased.

Home Again.—David Stevens, and wife, of Diamond Valley, returned home on Wednesday last after a pleasant visit to friends at Salt Lake City.

Engrossed.—The Act to levy a tax for the payment of Grand and trial jurors in this county has passed to engrossment in the Assembly.

To day.—The sale of the delinquent stock of the Advance Company will take place at San Francisco to day.

The Western mails of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday arrived here to day.

The New York Saratogian tells this pleasant little story: "A lady visiting a Walnut street residence, a few days since, was attracted to a beautiful canary bird by its close resemblance to one she had lost last Spring. She was informed that the songster had come to them, they finding it one chilly morning perched upon a window-sill. The lady stated that the bird had been taught to perform the pretty little feat, when given its liberty in a room, of picking up a pin and sticking it in the carpet. The cage door was opened, and as the canary flew forth the lady threw a pin out in the center of the floor.—The bird immediately flew down to where it lay, caught it in its bill, dextrously stuck it in a perpendicular position in the carpet, after which it hopped off a step or two and warbled forth some of its sweetest notes, as if in exultation of the feat it had accomplished. It was her long lost songster."

A Brooklyn factory girl has sued her employer for the amount of a fine he imposed upon her for not making buttons properly. She said to the justice: "If I, or any of the 200 other girls employed in the factory, were five minutes late, a fine of twenty five cents was imposed. There were various other fines; for instance, we would be fined if we dropped a small piece of trimming on the floor. There is a room above the workshop, and if any of us wished to hang our hats or cloaks there we had to pay twenty five cents a week for the privilege."

A man was taking aim at a hawk that was perched on a tree near his chicken coop, when his little daughter exclaimed, "Don't take aim, pa; let it go off by accident!" "Why so?" asked his father. "Cause every gun that goes off by accident always hits somebody!"

The Parent of Insomnia.

The parent of insomnia or wakefulness is in nine cases out of ten a dyspeptic stomach. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion interferes with it. The brain and stomach sympathize. One of the prominent symptoms of a weak state of the gastric organs is a disturbance of great nerve entrepot, the brain. Invigorate the stomach, and you restore equilibrium to the great center. A most reliable medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is far preferable to mineral sedatives and powerful narcotics which, though they may for a time exert a soporific influence upon the brain, soon cease to act, and invariably injure the tone of the stomach. The Bitters, on the contrary, restore activity to the operations of that all important organ, and their beneficent influence is reflected in sound sleep and a tranquil state of the nervous system. A wholesome impetus is likewise given to the liver and bowels by its use.
